

Nothing is more important than what is at your core. Your core determines whether you remain strong during times of great testing and persecution. Your core determines the outcome of your life and the quality of your fruit.

Core beliefs and convictions are the central most important thing that determines viability, longevity, and strength of an individual, a church, or a movement.

In this series, we will take a look at core beliefs that have stirred our churches since the beginning and have been an inspiration to thousands of people to live their lives for the glory of God, as we unite together to fulfill the Great Commission of Jesus.
